|  | The SCBA should be resting on the floor or ground, with the backplate is facing up, the air cylinder valve facing toward you and the shoulder straps to the sides. The evaluation begins when the evaluator says go.                    |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 1                                 | Fully open the air cylinder valve. Lift the SCBA, and swing it over your shoulder, being mindful of people or objects around you.   |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 2                                 | Slide your other hand between the SCBA cylinder and the corresponding shoulder strap.   |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 3                                 | Tighten the shoulder straps   |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 4                                 | Attach the waist belt and adjust its tightness.   |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 5                                 | Don the face piece, and check for an adequate seal.   |            |      |           |      |           |      |
| 6                                 | Pull the protective hood into position on your head, don your helmet, secure the chin strap, and don your gloves. Attach regulator or do whatever procedure is necessary to activate air flow into mask. Stopwatch stops with finished. |            |      |           |      |           |      |
